

Religion & Politics 1

In the 1640s people were very religious and it effected everything they believed in- even the way they thought the country should be run.

Group	Religious beliefs	Politics
 Royalists	Anglican
 Parliamentarians	Presbyterian
 The Army	Independent	"Every man should have the right to vote for their MP, not just those people who have money or land"

✕ Use the statements on the Religion & Politics 2 sheet to find out what these different groups believed in the 1640s.

Religion & Politics 2

 Cut out these statements and stick them in the correct box in the table on Religion & Politics 1 sheet

"We should have bishops to help us talk to God. The King is the head of the Church of England"

"The King has been chosen by God to rule England. His laws should not be questioned. We should respect him as our monarch"

"Pastors that we choose should lead us in our worship. The church should be run by a small group of religious men"

"The King is just a normal man. There should be a group of educated men in Parliament making laws and decisions"

"Every man has the right to worship God in whichever way he likes. He does not need a preacher to lead him"
